BURSAR STARTS FUND.

Needy Students to be Assisted by Money Realized From Sale of Models of Rogers Building.

Bursar Rand will soon put on sale some plaster models of the Rogers Building. Mr. Rand is raising a fund to help needy students who are not eligible for a scholarship, and will use the profits from the sale of these models as the foundation of the fund.

The original model, which is the work of a second year Architect, was worked up in modeling clay from the plans in the possession of the Institute, the first floor plan and a perspective. Prof. Burton also had a photograph taken of the front of Rogers. The model was left in a sketchy condition to avoid the appearance of a penny-bank. It is about three and one-half inches long and two and one-quarter wide. Being on such a small scale it follows only the general lines of the building.

JUNIORS WIN BASEBALL.

Game Played at Technology Field. 1908 Defeats Springfield H. S. Associations Elect Officers.

The baseball season was opened Saturday at Technology Field by a game between 1906 and 1908, which resulted in the defeat of the Freshmen by the score of 13 to 5.

The effects of lack of practice were seen at all times, and playing was for the most part very ragged. Both teams should improve much now that the ground is in good condition for practice and the weather favorable.

The Freshmen Fencing Team defeated Springfield High School at the Gym, Friday evening, by a score of 5 to 4. The Springfield men continually rushed the fighting, and their unusual style of handling the foil made the meet exciting. Bounetheau, captain of the Freshman Team, showed the best form and easily won all of his bouts.

Howard, '06, finished first, P. J. Clapp, '06, second, Lorenz, '05, third, Youngerman, '07, Allen, '07, and Adams, '07, were fourth, fifth and sixth respectively. ## INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS.

Yale Teams Disqualified by A. A. U. Big Track Meet at Philadelphia. Harvard Gets Bequests.

Invitations for the Intercollegiate and Interschool Track Meet to be held at Philadelphia April 29 have already brought forth many replies, which indicate that the meet will be the most successful ever held in the history of intercollegiate athletics.

The most important feature of the meet will be the presence of a number of relay teams and crack individual performers from the more important Western universities. This will be the first time in a number of years that the Western and Eastern college atheletes have met in a general meet, and because of this fact the Pennsylvania Meet almost equals the intercollegiate championships in importance.

Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota have all accepted invitations to send relay teams, and have also signified their intention of sending teams of individual stars to compete in this class of events. Chicago will bring on its star quarter-miler. Wisconsin and Minnesota will make an effort to land the one- and two-mile championships. Yale, Harvard, Cornell and Pennsylvania will all have teams in the one-mile relay to attempt to prove the superiority of the East, and nearly all the Eastern colleges of importance have relay teams entered in the different class and distance events. Most of them also have at least one star whom they will send down to try to take a share of the individual honors.

One of the features of the event will be the relay races between preparatory schools. These have been divided into three classes and from the number of entries already received there should be a large number of close contests.

Yale's swimming team and basketball team have had several misunderstandings with the authorities of the Amateur Athletic Union. Yale has engaged in matches with teams not formally registered, and said authorities have disqualified the Yale teams. On Yale's side no especial notice has been taken of the matter as yet, but such concessions as are necessary for an amicable settlement will probably be made.

Harvard University has just been bequeathed $1,000,000 by William F. Milton, of Pittsfield and New York, and $200,000 by James C. Carter of New York.

Cornell is to have a cricket team this year. There is a cricket club also at the University of Penn.

WILLIAM A. NICHOLS, PRINTER, 208 SUMMER ST., REAR

An interesting extract from a communication which was recently received by Mr. Humphreys from Alfred T. Waite in response to an inquiry in regard to the original Technology colors.

* * * * *

At a meeting of the Class of '79, held early in 1876, the question of a college color came up and a committee was appointed to consider the matter. All the single colors having been adopted by other colleges, the committee turned to combinations of shades. Each member submitted one or more and these were passed upon by the whole committee.

The chairman's combination of cardinal red and silver gray was selected. The class voted to accept the committee's choice and to ask the other classes to adopt cardinal and silver gray as the Institute colors, and although this was a move on the part of the first year men, the upper classes acquiesced. The colors were first used at the prize drill in May, 1876, when the battalion guidons were made of red and gray silk.

* * * * *

The original colors may be seen on one of the Rogers Bulletin boards. The red is a slightly brighter shade than is usually seen now.

According to the daily papers, the son of President Schurman of Cornell is earning his living at blacksmith work, having been unsuccessful in passing his examinations.

Hollis St. Theatre.

Maude Adams in two plays is a doubly strong attraction this week for her last nights in Boston. "The Little Minister" proves as popular as ever it did and her impersonation of Babbie is one of the most delightful illustrations of comedy acting that the modern stage has seen. All this week the Barrie play will be followed by "Op O My Thumb," a study of slavey life in London, which Miss Adams produced so successfully at the Empire Theatre in New York.

Colonial Theatre.

"Humpty Dumpty" is in the third week of its stay in Boston and its engagement here is positively limited. Klaw and Erlanger have opened the eyes of everybody by the great spectacular production and it looks exactly as if all local records would be as completely broken as the great egg which sits on the wall and from which Humpty Dumpty has his great fall. The comedians are wonders of drollery and the two great ballets are exceeding beautiful.

Tremont Theatre.

Miss Nance O'Neil and her Company will be at the Tremont during the next three weeks in an attractive repertoire of classic and standard plays. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoon and evening and Saturday night the bill will be "Macbeth." The remaining performances of the first week will employ Glacommetti's powerful historical drama, "Elizabeth, Queen of England." The scenic productions for each are on a vast and elaborate scale.

The management of the '08 Baseball team wishes to urge every Freshman to come out. Some forty men have already reported for practice but there cannot be too many candidates.
